Business Results of Security Solution Service (SSS) segment

Sales grew thanks to a substantial increase in product sales, but profit fell due to decreases in service-related sales

Security Consulting Services
Sales were down due to a reclassification of business, despite an increase in the number of consultations for stronger systems and measures.

Security Assessment Services
Sales decreased mainly because sales of year-long large projects are to be reported as a lump sum at the end of the fiscal year, despite an increase in the number of projects for penetration testing, which examines potential threats.
Security Monitoring Services
Sales rose due to growth in services of individual monitoring that provides sophisticated measures for specific companies and services of internal fraud monitoring as well as due to reclassification of business.

Security Product Sales

There were substantial increases in sales of cloud-enabled products for endpoint security measures or for web security measures with support for denial of service attacks and in sales of log management products that collect and analyze data from various devices.

Security Maintenance Services
Sales of existing projects, etc. grew, despite a reduction in demand due to expansion of cloud-enabled products.
Note: From this first quarter's consolidated accounting period, businesses were reclassified among subsegments as follows: - Endpoint security support services: Consulting services $\rightarrow$ Monitoring services

- Targeted mail training services: Assessment services $\rightarrow$ Consulting services
